

About Us

Sky Bracket was launched in 1986 as a division of Olson Aluminum Castings to fill a growing need in the new mast arm market for high quality mounting brackets for the traffic signal, camera and sign industry. Our products have been designed by experienced casting engineers, eliminating the design deficiencies typically found in other mounting systems while exceeding industry standards for ease of installation.

Our foundry is ISO 9001:2008 registered, demonstrating our commitment to high industry standards in efficiency, operational controls and manufacturing processes.
